

“Joe Williams” is an Entrepreneur, Visionary Counselor, Elder and Manager. He has proved himself in guiding his clients, young and old with gentle but firm encouragement developed through an inner creativity and strength. Joe is an accomplished play script writer, speaker, consultant and corporate trainer after 25+ years of challenging work and dedication.

Joe is best known for his highly-acclaimed Men in the Kingdom, “Disciples Returning to Christ” an organization formed in Tucker Georgia, where he currently resides and promote for the public good to communities. The primary and continued focus of Men in the Kingdom is due to the lack of men in many cases stepping to the task of responsibilities, which God has ordained men to serve to the family and community.

Among the many hats that he wears, he is also co-founder of Kingdomwood International Film Festival, a faith-based annual 3-day film festival event that allow independent film makers to showcase their films, get industry updates, network, meet industry professionals, and industry celebrities.

“Audrey J. Thomas” was born in Detroit, Michigan where she received spiritual mentoring under the late Clarence LaVaughn, a/k/a Reverend C.L. Franklin, the American Baptist minister and civil rights activist who was also the father of American singer-songwriter, Aretha Franklin. Franklin served as the pastor of New Bethel Baptist Church in Detroit. Ms. Thomas studied Broadcast Management at the University of Texas in Arlington and is now hosting her 11th year in the faith-based film festival business, as the Co-Founder and the CEO of Kingdomwood International Film Festival (formerly, known as, Kingdomwood Christian Film Festival “KCFE”), which made its debut in 2008. Ms. Thomas started KIFF to encourage filmmakers, as well as, those aspiring to hold this distinction, to write, produce, direct and to act in Christian films that minister to families and communities.

WHY KINGDOMWOOD MEN IN FILM?

Our MISSION is to offer a network of support that inspires and empowers Men filmmakers in their quest to create stimulating faith-based projects that honor the Kingdom and each other.

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

Kingdomwood supports a wide variety of faith-based video and film productions and offers courses at our film festival to enhance the filmmakers' knowledge in this genre of filmmaking. The Kingdomwood Men in Film's Handbook will be updated every 6 months with the latest advances and knowledge on filmmaking. This indispensable handbook covers all aspects of film production. KMIF is open to students, filmmakers, writers, producers, professionals and novices. Kingdomwood Men in Films (KMIF) was launched to recognize and support Men who are currently working in the film industry or have a desire to do so. KMIF is a networking group that recognizes and supports the achievements of Men in the industry. We need to create true stories. We will produce movies about Love, Hope, Friendship, Reconciliation, Forgiveness and Redemption, and focus on Kingdom plans for relationships, marriages, and families.

GOALS

KMIF is a subsidiary of the Kingdomwood International Film Festival (KIFF), a non-profit organization founded to recognize and honor the best in faith-based filmmaking in a yearly awards presentation. The festival is held during the first weekend in October. KIFF was founded by Audrey Thomas and Joe Williams in 2008.
